

GUARDING AGAINST THE MEASLES

From State Health Department. By Dr. A. H. Lewis, State Health Commissioner.

Reports of the prevalence of measles in several different parts of the State have led to the warning that the season for this disease is now approaching.

The time of year is a very cold and common disease, and it is very serious in some cases. It is the person in the most serious condition when exposed to the disease. It is not for the sake of the child, but for the sake of the child's mother. The first sign of the disease is a fever, and this is followed by a rash. The rash is a red, blotchy eruption on the face and neck, and it is usually accompanied by a fever. The disease is usually self-limiting, and it usually disappears within a few days. However, in some cases, it can be very serious, and it can even lead to death.

Measles is a disease that is caused by a virus. It is a very contagious disease, and it can be spread from one person to another. The virus is usually spread through the air, but it can also be spread through contact with an infected person. The disease is usually most common in children, but it can also affect adults. The symptoms of the disease are a fever, a rash, and a sore throat. The fever is usually the first sign of the disease, and it is usually accompanied by a headache and a general feeling of malaise. The rash is a red, blotchy eruption on the face and neck, and it is usually accompanied by a fever. The disease is usually self-limiting, and it usually disappears within a few days. However, in some cases, it can be very serious, and it can even lead to death.

BURGLED LADIES' ROOM

The room of two young women who are employed at a local store, was burgled one day last week. The intruders literally stripped the room of all things of value, including practically all the clothing of the occupants. No trace of the burglars has been found, and the young women are losing their wearing apparel—quite an item to a working woman these days. There is an increasing amount of petty pilfering these days, which even so much official vigilance seems unable to put to a stop.

MEN WITH STOLEN SHIRTS

Night Policeman Baxter on Friday night picked up two men giving the names of Morris Webb and Frank Irving, wanted of Blossum, Texas, for the theft of some silk shirts, and they were later turned over to Texas officers. Baxter had found a box with a number of silk shirts in his possession, which, mentioned, said that two men had sold them to him. He led the officer to the men, who admitted having stolen them in Blossum, Texas.

Numerous Dipping Vats Have Been Built In This And Other Counties In Effort To Clean Up.

An intensive tick eradication campaign is now being carried on in this county. Numerous dipping vats have been built in this and other counties in an effort to clean up the tick problem. The campaign is being carried on by the State Health Department, and it is being supported by the local health departments. The dipping vats are built in strategic locations, and they are used to dip livestock in a solution of kerosene and lime. This solution kills the ticks, and it also kills the larvae. The campaign is being carried on in a systematic manner, and it is hoped that it will soon be successful in eradicating the tick problem.

THE STATE OF SONORA SECEDES FROM MEXICO

Action Follows Belief That Federal Government Wanted To Establish A Military Dictatorship There.

The State of Sonora formally seceded from Mexico last night. The secession was based on the belief that the federal government wanted to establish a military dictatorship in the state. The state government has declared its independence, and it has established a new government. The federal government has responded by sending troops to the state, and it has declared the secession illegal. The situation in Sonora is therefore very tense, and it is hoped that a peaceful solution can be found.

Other States Follow Lead

Following the lead of Sonora, several other states have also declared their independence from Mexico. These states include Chihuahua, Coahuila, and Durango. The federal government has responded by sending troops to these states, and it has declared the secessions illegal. The situation in these states is therefore very tense, and it is hoped that a peaceful solution can be found.
